

Students of Anchal Preparatory School visited the Paraplegic Home on Thursday.

HT PHOTO

Anchal kids say Jai Hind! with paraplegic patients

HT Live Correspondent
Chandigarh, January 23

TO CELEBRATE REPUBLIC DAY, children of Anchal Preparatory School Chandigarh and Mohali spent their day at the Paraplegic Rehabilitation Centre Mohali. School principal Manju Sood said that this visit was made to make the students understand the real meaning of being a soldier.

At the center, the tiny tots presented a ballet, while the senior students enacted a play on Indian history to the delight of the inmates.

Centre Director Col

Jaswant Singh Spehia took the students around the center. The inmates are all ex-servicemen with different degrees of disability. The men and students played a number of games during the course of the visit.

The children and school staff were impressed with the way the men have been encouraged and enabled to earn their livelihoods through many trades. After vocational training, inmates involve their families in making school uniforms, bed sheets, candles, and many other items including towels and wire brushes.